

A MOMENT WITH WONG JONG NONG

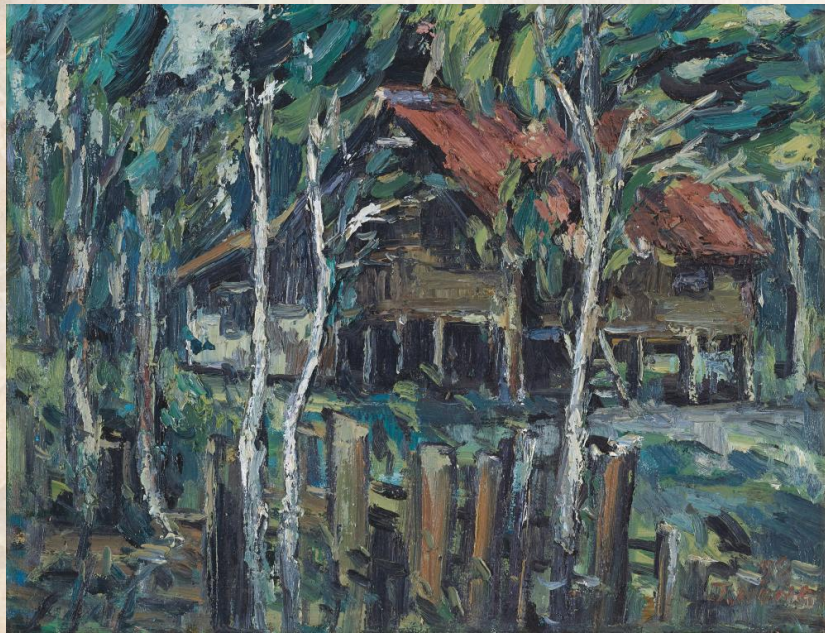

APPRECIATING NANYANG ART

Born in Singapore in 1944, Wong enrolled in the Singapore Nanyang Academy of Fine Arts, where he established himself as a prominent figure in the Nanyang art movement.

Throughout his career, Wong Jong Nong's contributions to the Nanyang art movement played a crucial role in shaping the artistic landscape of Southeast Asia. His artworks have been exhibited and celebrated in various galleries, leaving a lasting legacy and inspiring generations of artists in the region.

FROM WANDERER TO VISIONARY: THE INSPIRING JOURNEY OF AN ARTIST

Despite wanting to pursue an art career, Wong decided, upon graduation that it wouldn't be a financially viable career as paintings don't sell very much and there were limited galleries and art collectors back then.

He worked as a car mechanic while dedicating his free time during holidays and weekends to painting. His perseverance finally paid off when he was finally able to dedicate all of his time to art, 30 years later.

Wong Jong Nong relished in the al fresco painting of rural, coastal scenes, and hilly landscapes. He picked up an Impressionist style inspired by Van Gogh and Monet which has evolved over the years.
